COMMITTEE: FACILITIES AND CONSTRUCTION REFORM

Introduction

On October 20, 2004, the Board authorized the implementation of a new prototype school program (i.e. an Early Childhood Center, Elementary School, Middle School and K-8 Center). The new program will incorporate all of the activities involved in the creation of new schools from research and development to construction close-out. The issues of school size, design quality, and planning for future capacity needs will be simultaneously addressed. The designs developed for the new prototype program are intended to serve as the models for future schools, incorporating refined design criteria, standardized construction details, and building systems. To that end, staff recommends that a single Construction Manager at-Risk (CM at-Risk) firm build all three sites simultaneously, one CM at-Risk firm for each prototype, or other delivery methods as deemed appropriate. The current estimated construction cost for each New Middle School prototype is $20,912,540, fully expanded from 1200 to 1600 student stations.

In January 2005, a Request For Qualifications for Architects/Engineers was advertised. Thirty-five firms responded to the Request for Qualifications. Eleven firms were short-listed, and on March 17th and 18th, 2005, the A/E Selection Committee interviewed and ranked the following eleven A/E firms:

Scope of Services

Prior to Phase I (preliminary) Design, all four firms will be requested to research modular prototype design and construction technology currently employed for similar projects. Module designs (based upon approved facilities lists), new standards, and high performance technologies will be investigated and analyzed during this research and development phase. Collaborative meetings will be held for approximately six weeks to gather, share, and coordinate pertinent information. The ultimate goal will be to design the twelve initial sites to reflect the use of standardized products and technologies. LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) criteria may be applied as a goal. LEED is a consensus-based national standard for developing high-performance sustainable buildings.

Spillis Candela DMJM will provide full A/E design services for the development of the New Middle School Prototype, including site adaptation for the following three sites:

- State School "MM-1" at NW 92 Avenue / NW 119 Street (to relieve Jose Marti Mid. and Henry H. Filer Mid.)
- State School "UU-1" at SW 26 Street / SW 152 Avenue (to relieve Paul W. Bell Mid., W.R. Thomas Mid. and Howard A. Doolin Mid.)
- State School "PP-1" at NE 207 Street / NE 2 Avenue (to relieve Norland Mid. and Parkway Mid.)

M-DCPS reserves the right to change these preliminary locations at its discretion.

The Basic Services Fee 'A' will include all required A/E services and consultants (other than a traffic specialist), expansion modules from 1200 to 1600 student stations, EHPA design requirements (if required), and full construction administration services for the first site (including bi-weekly site visits). Additional site visits will be required, but must be authorized by the Board's designee, and will be compensated on a per/visit basis.

Basic Services Fee 'B', for the second and third sites, which are contemplated to be constructed simultaneously with the first site, will include all A/E services and consultants (other than a traffic specialist) to provide site adaptation, re-use design, construction documents and full construction administration services (including bi-weekly site visits) at each site. Additional site visits will be required, but must be authorized by the Board's designee, and will be compensated on a per/visit basis.
