SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION NO. 02-03 OF THE SCHOOL BOARD OF MIAMI-DADE COUNTY, FLORIDA, HONORING DR. NONTOMBI NAOMI TUTU FOR HER OUTSTANDING LEADERSHIP AND HUMANITARIAN EFFORTS

The belief that there is still much to do to eradicate the legacy of three centuries of racial oppression is what encourages Dr. Nontombi Naomi Tutu to continue to speak out all over the world to diverse groups about apartheid and the continuing struggle in South Africa. Apart from lecturing, Naomi, daughter of South African Nobel Peace Prize winner Archbishop Desmond Tutu founded and chaired the Tutu Foundation which helped South African refugees and awarded them scholarships so that they could learn skills that would make them self-supporting while in exile as well as prepare them for constructive roles in the free South Africa.

Since 1979, Dr. Tutu has made numerous public addresses on different aspects of the South African situation at schools, churches, colleges and universities across the United States and Europe. Dr. Tutu served as a consulting associate in sub-Saharan Africa and in South Africa looking into educational and professional opportunities for black women. She has taught courses on development issues and education in Africa at the universities of Hartford and Connecticut and Brevard College in North Carolina. Dr. Tutu also worked at the University of Cape Town. She was program coordinator at the African Gender Institute and was in charge of programs on race, gender and gender-based violence in education. She is currently program coordinator for the Race Relations Institute at Fisk University.

Dr. Tutu, who adheres to the belief that the opportunities she has had in life afford her a special responsibility to serve, has made many contributions to Miami-Dade County Public Schools. These contributions range from the delivery of a keynote address at the district's 5000 Role Models of Excellence Project's Season of Nonviolence conference where she addressed the issue of reducing violence and ethnic tension among our youth to a scheduled speech this month at the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Unity Breakfast.

As a true ambassador of civil rights and freedom, Dr. Nontombi Naomi Tutu deserves a resolution honoring her from this Board.
