Beliefs

32. Which of the following statements do you believe the most about the public health risk of COVID-19?

(Select only one)

- Risks for children and teachers to get the virus (even when not showing symptoms) is low
- Risks for children to get the virus is moderate; reopening of schools still is seen as a risk because the virus can be spread without having symptoms
- Reopening of the schools can put children and others at high risk of getting the virus

33. Which of the following statements do you believe the most about the importance of reopening schools for the economy?

(Select only one)

- Opening of schools as soon as possible is necessary to allow parents to return to work; many workers rely on childcare
- Economic activity can return through the slow and phased reopening of schools
- Most parents can continue to work from home or most households can arrange for caregivers (including through government-provided care)

34. Which of the following statements do you believe the most about how reopening schools can impact student learning and development?

(Select only one)

- Students can have serious learning loss because of online learning especially for at-risk students; Students staying home all day can experience other problems, such as lack of nutrition, or domestic violence in the home
- Online learning works for some subjects and grade levels; in-person lessons required for others
- Online learning allows students to continue learning at their grade level

35. Which of the following statements do you believe the most about the ability to make schools safe?

(Select only one)

- Health & Safety measures (such as cleaning and social distancing) can lower the risk of getting the virus in schools
- Health & Safety measures (such as cleaning and social distancing) are not enough to prevent the spread of the virus in schools
- It is very difficult to make schools safe because children can be careless (not covering mouth or social distancing)
